BPW SOUTH WEST

Your Zoom Meeting Invitation

EMERGING TECHNOLOGIES IN UNPREDICTABLE TIMES

Just six months ago we hardly knew what a Zoom call was or that working from home would become the norm. Due to the Covid pandemic we have adapted quickly to new ways of working and connecting with customers, friends, and the community.

The global economy is shattered, we live with restrictions on lifestyles and our ability to travel and, most importantly, protecting our health has become a serious concern. But it is not all doom and gloom. There are so many opportunities to grow, inspire and make the most of this enforced lockdown.

Join Justin Williams from iXplainIT as he investigates the latest possibilities during and beyond COVID-19.

Justin Williams is the technology coach and filmmaker for many admired individuals, business and government organizations in Victoria, founding the iXplainIT brand in 2014.

A former manager in high-end hotel chains in Queensland and Victoria, Justin has a regular technology segment on ABC Radio and a passion for the future of technology and how it will greatly improve our lives.

This free online meeting will offer a lovely chance to connect with each other until we are able to get back together again.
