

TUES 3 OCTOBER 2023 6.30PM
BPW SOUTH WEST
YOUR INVITATION

The down load from Deakin! Programs for libraries, learning and industry leadership

At our October cocktail event dinner, you'll hear from three women taking the lead at Deakin University in study, research, innovation and engagement and a whole lot more. Plus enjoy a tour of the Deakin Library.

Clare Carlsson
Deakin University Library, Director

Clare will showcase the exciting programs that Deakin Library is developing with their bold vision for the future of libraries and their strong commitment to students, researchers, and communities.

Ailiche Goddard-Clegg Deakin University,
Communication and Engagement Coordinator

Ailiche leads Hycel's hydrogen social licence research, communication, events and engagement program; bringing research, industry, and community together to develop outcomes for broad benefit. The Hycel Technology Hub is a bespoke hydrogen research, testing and education facility at Deakin's Warrnambool campus the connects Deakin's research expertise with industry partners.

Nicky Suter
Deakin University, Partnership Officer -Diversity and Inclusion

Nicky will talk to us about "For the Love of Learning" Deakin's school outreach partnership program. The Program works with schools across the South West to increase people wanting to go on to study at university. You'll hear an overview of the program and find out how you can get involved!

As always, our nights offer great networking and we look forward to seeing you there.
